REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The present invention is directed to a self-contained communication system. Each independent claim identifies the uniquely distinct features: regarding claim 1 (originally filed claim 5), wherein the remote record storage facility comprises a plurality of authentication servers, each authentication server disposed within and servicing a particular geographic area, each authentication server receiving individual subscriber profile information from DSL service providers within the geographic region and storing said individual subscriber profile information in a respective database; regarding claim 8 (originally filed claim 19), wherein the remote record storage facility comprises a plurality of authentication servers, each authentication server disposed within and servicing a particular geographic area, each authentication server receiving individual subscriber profile information from DSL service providers within the geographic region and storing said individual subscriber profile information in a respective database; regarding claim 12 (originally filed claim 23), assigning each subscribing user a unique identification indicia; associating the identification indicia with the user's subscription profile information; storing the user's subscription profile information in a database hosted by one of a plurality of authentication server systems, each authentication server disposed within and servicing a particular geographic area, each authentication server receiving individual subscription profile information from DSL service providers within the geographic region; interrogating a user for their identification indicia upon receipt of a data service request; establishing a communication channel with the authentication server; receiving a user's subscription profile information from the authentication server; and granting access to a
